DEDICATION

For her years of devoted and faithful service to the students of Sanford High School, we the Senior Class of '47 dedicate this issue of Sandprints to Miss Freda Dimmick.

To Mrs. D. C. Krimminger, who was once Miss Freda Dimmick, we offer herewith our respect and affection. May future years deal in the same rich measure to you all the quality which you have dealt to us in the past.

CLASS HISTORY

As the Class of 1947 nears its goal there is at least one point on which it has broken all previous records. Numerically we are the largest class in all high school history. Not only is this true of our Senior year, but through all the grammar grades and high school we had these same record-breaking numbers! No wonder each succeeding teacher dreaded to see our class coming. If we failed to gather up the average amount of knowledge, it was just because there were so many of us to absorb it. But being a little army within ourselves gave us courage and back in 1942 we swamped into high school confident that we would soon take over the place.

That first year we chose Joe Lawrence for our class president; Jimmy Cashion, vice-president; and Sylvia Makepeace was our secretary-treasurer.

Our Freshman year made us eligible to club membership. Our officers were Joyce Howell, president; Susie Riddle, vice-president; with Jimmy Cashion as secretary-treasurer.

As Sophomores we found some of our girls and boys being chosen for the Junior-Senior banquet.

To see us through this year we elected Earl Johnson, president; Mary Alice Wilkins, vice-president; and Betty Davenport was our secretary-treasurer.

Our long awaited Junior year arrived and brought with it the Junior play, "You Are Young Only Twice." Then the Junior-Senior banquet. All the hard work we put behind it really payed off that night. Then the election of Student Council president when Bill Norris won over Jimmy Cashion and Kyle Cox.

For class president we elected Jimmy Cashion; vice-president was Kyle Cox; and our secretary was Joyce Howell; with Mary Alice Wilkins as treasurer.

For our final and most important year we have had Kyle Cox as president; and our vice-president, Jimmy Cashion; our secretary, Robert Johnson; with Nancy Knott as our treasurer.

During this year we were proud to welcome back to our classrooms many veterans who had served with our armed forces at home and abroad.

Looking back on twelve years of school, the hard work, the long tests, seem to fade from our memory and we see only the many bright, happy spots along the way. The reward is more than worth all the effort.

ANNETTE HUCKANS, Class Historian

GOOD-BYE TO YESTERDAY

With footprints on the sands of Time
Into a country fair
Doth pass the Class of '47
To find what's waiting there
And what we find depends on us—
Success or failure wait—
Our happiness or dismal tears
We'll find outside the gate.
Our world hath need of strong brave men,
Of women true and good
Who will unite both heart and hand
For world-wide brotherhood.
We've walked the path so long and hard
And now the end is here.
And so we close the wellworn doors
To High School days so dear.

ISABEL HEINS, Class Poet

PROPHECY OF THE CLASS "47"

As eighth graders the hour glass stood unheeded. We had all the time in the world. In the ninth grade the sand-level in the hour glass dropped a little. We gave it little thought—there was so much left. This hour glass first attracted our full attention in the tenth grade. The boys and girls who graduated that year had been our friends for two years. But the hour glass was still just another instrument of time. In the eleventh grade we were aware of the hours—but chiefly because we had grown in importance. We were Juniors now. We were busy and the hours passed quickly. Time became precious with the very first day of our senior year. We had reached the top. There was much to do—so very much to do. Nobody had any time.

Since the future is unavoidable, it becomes necessary to wonder about tomorrow. Based on our knowledge of the seniors in five years of work and play: we peer uncertainly into the future. It is foggy, misty, dim; in places we guess:

We guess—ten years in the future Carnegie Hall will present on opening night three of Sanford's former Musicians, then known as the Melody Men—Paul Bobbitt, Bob Boyers, and George "Buck" Creel. Paul, with all his responsibilities, still finds time to croon lovesongs to his wife, Anne Newton, while their private secretary, Julia Love, chases the bell hop, Edward Thomas. Ed has a time answering the calls of the other wealthy guests at the Waldorf-Astoria. These include Annette Huckans, the well known poetess, and the equally famous opera star, Madam Eloise Rosser. Madam Rosser is usually accompanied by her husband "Moody" Kelly who has a contract this year with Notre Dame as End Coach.

Notre Dame, with Jimmy Makepeace as one of its head coaches, will have tough opposition when they meet Army under the coaching of Charles Cole and Deon Stoen. Many of the stars of the team of "47" have entered the football profession such as, Jimmy Clark and Cameron Tally for the New York Yankees.

Several of the former classmates have gone into the clergy. Reverend "Blimp" Lawrence is now pastor of the First Baptist Church. His wife, the former Isabel Heins, is the church director and also writes "Blimp's" sermons.

Dick Johnson has taken up relief work in Greenland and is teaching the Eskimos how to build igloos of brick. Louise Cox has contributed much to suffering humanity by her great missionary work.

One hardly recognized the flourishing city of Sanford under the capable leadership of Mayor Jimmie Cashion, who has finally succeeded in winning an election from Mr. Williams. Peggy Snypes, the former candidate for mayor, has gone to Washington to take up her duties in the Senate.

One side of the four-lane streets in Sanford have been reserved for "The Flash Bus Company" owned by Dean Wakefield and operated by Garland Brown, Rex Faulk, and Milton Harrington.

"The Sanford Daily Herald" with Kyle Cox as editor and Max Cotton as business manager, is now one of North Carolina's leading newspapers, with Pierce Grove, the on-the-spot reporter, around to furnish her with gossip. Evelyn Goodrich's society column is very informative. Roy "Stern" Utley gives the thrilling report of the games.

Let's take a quick glance around the stores—Jeanette Coker and Edith Knight, owners of Mack's and Rose's dime stores respectively, are having stiff competition . . . Joe Lawrence, new owner of Collins Press, enjoys watching his sons follow in his footsteps . . . The former "Lazarus Bargain Store" is now under management of Fred Riddle and "Tookie" Von Canon . . . John R. Ogburn has increased his number of mule stables and is now a big time operator in that profession . . . Gene and Marvin Yarborough are co-owners of the Pure Oil Station . . . Lee Billiard Parlor, with Gene Wofford and Jack Wicker as managers, now has two pool rooms. One for girls and one for boys . . . Leon Spivey is traffic cop. This position gives him an opportunity to be downtown constantly . . . Ann Johnson, Elaine Lucas and Wilma Roberson run the "Sanford Beautie Shoppe" which features the hair-do of the year—"The Spital Haircase" . . . Roy Reaves, Sanford's leading lawyer, recently distinguished himself in the defense of Doris Poole Sedgewickipoo, accused of the murder of her wealthy husband.

Not a single one of the classmates eloped or married by answering ads. They were too meditative and acted with wise deliberation, hence bringing about the below mentioned outcome: Willa Tedder, Betty Smith, Doris Davis, Ruby Thomas, Eloise Thomas, Zelma Mace and Annie Neil Cole and also Dorothy Hopper are having blissful married life. Polly Brice is still knitting although not for herself—but for her gift shop which is rapidly growing.

Dr. Harry Miller, Surgeon, and his assistant, Sophie White, with their efficient staff of nurses, Geraldine Dowdy, Clara Broughn, Catherine Yoder and Barbara Talley have done much to improve conditions in Duke. William Hancock is now an auctioneer for American Tobacco Company. Bill Norris is doing a fine job as principal of Sanford High. His secretary, Shirley Osborne, has a time keeping up with Bill's unique system. Jimmy Hutchins has become woodwork director. Pete Ussery, Teacher of Psychology of Women, recently published a book called "My Fickle Eye." Elizabeth Maynard has taken Miss Beddingfield's place as the song bird of Sanford High. Joyce Howell is doing a wonderful job this year as coach of the girl's basketball team.

Mary Alice Wilkins has become director of Physical Education for women at Duke. Bobby Johnson, better known as "Long John", recently had an accident with a golf ball when he was mistaken for a flag pole. He is now manager of Sanford Golf Course.

Vogue Magazine often features the beauty and charm of these three talented models—Ruby Craig, Louise Bradley and Mary Briggs. They are well illustrated by the equally talented Elsie Gregson who is one of Vogue's art illustrators. Betty Heins, famous dress designer, creates many of the fashions worn by these Vogue models.

Returning from their two weeks flight with American Air Lines as stewardess, "Kiff" Fields and Betty Davenport were seen at the opening of "Follies of 47," featuring Nell Stewart and Stewart Thomas. This Broadway success was written by the comedy writer, Nancy Knott. Also seen was Billy Jack Faulk, famous movie producer, who gave reporters the startling news—Virginia Rogers, glamorous star of the year, is about to refuse the leading role in "Snow White" because she will be forced to die her hair black. Mr. Faulk was accompanied by Francis Moody, Metropolitan Opera singer. Betty Ruth Perry, the producer's private secretary, finds New York still as thrilling as in her former school days there.

E. B. Keith has gone into the construction business on a large scale. His home office is located in Charlotte, houses five Sanford girls—Alice Woolard, Jennie Rowell, Ramona Ascough, Blue Spivey and Mildred Tyler. Bobby Easterling is building 6 lane highways around our city of Sanford. John Gladden is one of his engineers. Bob Lemmond has built up his drink concession into a large booming business. Sam Bost is busy sailing the ocean blue, while his wife La Rue Griffin and her partner Peggy Williams are making a reputation for themselves in Chicago as interior decorators.

Also in Chicago Grayson Davis, and the Vaughn Brothers, Clein and John, have started a dancing school which is giving Arthur Murray headaches.

Jack McBryde is running jet propelled taxis introduced to the world by Jimmy Pardue. Jack's wife Nancy is manager of Efird's Department Stores. Gerald Cranford, better known as "The Eye," has rid Sanford of all thieves and crooks. Elsie Wicker has gone into cahoots with Joan Davis as one of Hollywood's comediennes. The old bus station has been reconverted into a huge, streamlined building by its new owner, Ernest Spivey.

The sands have almost run out. There are so few left. We watch each grain with fascination. Memories have replaced the sands. Whatever the future brings, these remain.

When Coach Clemmer first called his squad together for the 1946 football team, the prospects for a winning team was excellent. He had many veterans back from the armed forces that had a great deal of experience on the gridiron and many lettermen from the '45 squad returning to the practice field. But the opposition proved to be just a little tougher and even though Coach Clemmer and Assistant Coach Del Mastro did all they could to find a winning combination the Jacket team won three contests, lost six, and tied one. On many occasions Lady Luck entered the fray and kept the Jackets from achieving their victories. But throughout the season the fine spirit of the Yellow Jacket squad and the student body overshadowed the losses they suffered. At the end of the season, Deon Stone and Jimmie Cashion were elected Co-Captains of the Sanford gridders. Their fine leadership, spirit, and sportsmanship made them tops among their teammates.

DURHAM 25—SANFORD 0

History repeated itself when the Sanford Yellow Jackets opened their football season against Durham's strong Bulldogs. The Jackets, who were completely out classed in rushing and ended up with only one first down to Durham's 11, were defeated by the identical score of the 1945 contest between the two teams, 25-0. The class AA conference team of Durham stayed in Jacket territory throughout the contest except on one occasion when Charles Cole, Sanford tailback, intercepted a Bulldog pass and carried it for 30 yards before being hauled down. Jimmie Cashion, starting center, fractured his hip during the battle, and he was kept out of the next three contests.

FAYETTEVILLE 27—SANFORD 0

The Sanford kick off spoiled the whole show when the Jacket pigskin was received by Fayetteville's Billy (Nub) Smith, who ran 90 yards, behind perfect blocking, to score the game's first touchdown in a game played before a huge crowd at Fayetteville. For the remainder of the first half it was a royal battle with Sanford once advancing to the Fayetteville five but the superior Fayetteville line held them back. With only a 6-0 lead at the halfway mark, Fayetteville's class AA team went on a rampage in the final chapter setting up three quick scores. Deon Stone was outstanding for the Jackets in the line and Jimmy Makepeace displayed fine form at wingback.

WINSTON-SALEM (Gray) 31—SANFORD 6

The third straight class AA opponent for Coach Clemmer's eleven got off to a fast start when they racked up two quick scores in the first period. The Jones brothers sparked the Gray boys to three more touchdowns in the final half, while the Jackets scored their first tally of the season in the third period on a 50 yard pass play from Charles Cole to Herbie Taylor. The double wing formation was experimented with during this contest and it proved rather successful with the Jackets making eight first downs to Gray's 11. Passes from Cole to ends Moody Kelly and Johnny Clark settled most of the yards gained.

SANFORD 12— ASHEBORO 12

The Jackets failed to protect a 12-6 lead after coming from behind to rack up two consecutive touchdowns in a non-conference tilt. After Asheboro had tallied in the first, Herbie Taylor raced around left end for a score, to tie up the exciting battle. Moody Kelly made a spectacular catch of Stone's 20 yard pass and ran for 30 yards to set up the score for Taylor. The second Sanford touchdown was made by Taylor soon after the Jackets had blocked and recovered an Asheboro punt as the Asheboro 32. The final tally that tied up the ball game came when Asheboro recovered a punt on Sanford's eight and scored on the next play. Gene Yarborough and Phil Yarborough played outstanding ball defensively with Taylor leading the offense.

WADESBORO 13—SANFORD 0

Temple Park was overflowing with football hungry fans to witness the Jackets' first venture into the Eastern class A conference race but the Anson County Boys rolled away with a 13-0 victory. The visitors scored first when they recovered a Sanford fumble on an attempted punt behind the goal line. In the second period the

BALL CAPERS

Jackets blew a chance to tie things up then they roared down to Wadesboro's two yard marker but could get no further. Sanford was roaring toward Wadesboro's goal again in the third stanza but an intercepted pass erased the threat. An end run in the final period netted the game's final touchdown. Deon Stone and Phil Yarborough showed fine defensive tactics with Moody Kelly catching several nice passes from Charles Cole.

SANFORD 13—ROCKINGHAM 0

The Yellow Jackets were masters of every play during this second conference test and the Rocks never seriously threatened as the Sanford gridders hung up their first victory of the season. A long pass from Charles Cole to Johnny Clark set up the first score on the four yard line where Red Boyd crashed over for the tally. A pass from Cole to Clark netted the extra point. Herbie Taylor pushed over the other touchdown in the final period after Cole had intercepted a Rockingham pass on their 45 and returned it to the 15 yard marker. Deon Stone was shifted from line to backfield in this game and he performed creditably. Cole and Taylor also paced the offense with Nelson Childress, Clark and Gene Yarboro shining on defense.

LAURINBURG 12—SANFORD 0

When this hard fought battle was over Sanford's gridiron eleven was completely out of the Eastern Class A Conference race. The contest, played on a wet, muddy field at Laurinburg, was evenly matched most of the way with the Jackets gaining seven first downs and Laurinburg racked up nine. The Scotties started fast by recovering a fumble on the Sanford 40 in the first quarter and with relentless driving power marched over for the first score. The other tally came when a short pass was intercepted on the Jackets' 15 the final period. The Jackets' biggest threat came in the third period when passes from Taylor to Inscoe netted 51 yards but the threat was erased when the Scotties intercepted on their own 19. A great loss was suffered by the squad when Moody Kelly, starting left end, broke his collar bone in the third stanza. Lenwood Dean made an excellent show of tackling in this contest.

SANFORD 21—LUMBERTON 0

The 1946 Homecoming gridiron clash resulted in a well deserved victory for Clemmer's eleven as the Sanford offense clicked to perfection. The Jackets racked up 12 first downs while the Pirates could get only two. Jack Spivey was the gun and spark plug of the Jacket attack. Herbie Taylor made the first score from the 11 yard line for the second tally. A beautiful 40 yard pass from Spivey was hauled down by George Inscoe on the goal line for the last touchdown. Deon Stone made all three convertments. Hick Talley and Jimmy Cashion paced the Jacket line.

HAMLET 18—SANFORD 14

This was probably the most exciting battle staged in Temple Park in several seasons with Taylor galloping off on a 50 yard touchdown jaunt in the early stages of the game and Stone converting for the extra point. Hamlet came right back to score but Sanford was ahead at the half 7-6. Early in the third period Johnny Clark, end, made a brilliant catch of Charlie Cole's aerial to set up another touchdown, made by Taylor from the eight yard marker. The Jackets' chances of victory were spoiled when an intercepted pass on Sanford's 10 and a fumble in the same spot a few minutes later, both resulted in scores for Hamlet. "Stogie" Spivey was again the spark plug on offense with Nelson Childress doing a fine job in the line.

SANFORD 12—RANKIN 6

After finishing the scheduled season the Yellow Jackets played Rankin High of Greensboro, a previously undefeated team, and came out on top by one touchdown. A 30 yard pass from Red Boyd was taken on the 10 yard line of Rankin by George Inscoe, who carried the pigskin over for the first score. Jack Spivey slipped away from several tacklers later in the battle and romped 15 yards for the Sanford gridders other score. A Jacket fumble on their own 29 was recovered by Rankin, which set up their only tally. Spivey performed nicely in the backfield along with two fighting linesmen, Bob Hayes and "Blimp" Lawrence.

S. H. S. Basketball

When the first practice session opened for the 1946-1947 cage team, prospects for a championship team was very bright. Herbie Taylor, Charles Cole, Stewart Thomas, and Gene Yarborough displayed their old form of the '45-'46 season and Jack Spivey, 1944 guard just back from the service, proved to be the spark plug for the Jackets.

During the regular season, the Jackets chalked up 19 victories as against 5 defeats. They defeated Tabor City very convincingly for the Southeastern Championship but when it came time to play Washington for the Class A Eastern Championship, Washington came out on top by a good margin.

Charles Cole led the season's scoring for the locals with 235 points and the stubborn defense of the Jackets was led by Jack Spivey and Yarborough.

The regulars were assisted greatly by the performances of the reserves: Joe Lawrence, Pete Ussery, Albert Rose, Ralph Fields, and Jimmy Cashion.

It was a very successful season and Sanford High should be proud of its '46-'47 cage team and their coach, H. A. Clemmer.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girls' basketball team this year offered loads of thrills to the sport fans as they had many close battles and exciting moments. The entire first string was composed of Seniors who had a great deal of experience. Although the girls were lacking in height, their fighting spirit and superior teamwork made them a team that was hard to beat.

Mary Alice Wilkins, our left-handed hook artist, led the scoring with 242 points. Joyce Howell, another sharpshooter, was a close runner-up with 190 points. Wilkins and Howell were an excellent shooting and passing combination.

Mary Briggs and Betty Lynn Davenport were outstanding guards and showed much skill with their zone defense.

The forward lineup usually consisted of Mary Alice Wilkins, Joyce Howell and Eloise Rosser with Elsie Gregson, Nancy Knott and Lois McIver as fast-breaking and capable substitutes.

The guard lineup was usually Mary Briggs, Betty Lynn Davenport and Doris Poole, with Helen Godley, Frances Moody and Betty Ruth Perry as fine reserves.

The team missed the action of Sophie White, veteran guard, who did not get to play because of illness.

When the Sanford lassies, coached by Miss Dorothy Dalrymple, reviewed their season, they found that they had won 15 out of 20 games and had tied Lumberton for first place in the conference by losing one game to each other.

"Kiff" Fields, manager, and her assistant, Dorothy Waddell, really worked hard for the team and deserve much recognition.

Much praise and credit must be given to Coach Dalrymple for her splendid work and very successful season.

1946 BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Sanford High's 1946 Baseball team advanced to the State finals in the Class A Conference race only to lose a tight pitcher's battle to Gray High from Winston-Salem, who won 1-0. The "Yellow Jackets" obtained the right to play Gray by defeating Chapel Hill in the District finals and by winning over Roanoke Rapids in the Eastern playoffs.

Sanford's ace pitcher, Billy Harrington, was the star of the season, pitching six shutouts and three no-hit, no-run affairs against Raleigh, Hamlet, and Chapel Hill. Coach Clemmer's well-balanced ball club finished the season with a record of twelve wins and four losses, which is one for Sanford High to be proud of.
